PROJECTS

SUPER (ES6, React, Redux, Node.js, Draft.js, MongoDB, Express)

live | github

Super is an online publishing platform for programmers inspired by Medium that enables users to create articles and follow authors.

- Leveraged the Draft.js library with React components to build a rich-text editor that facilitates an author's ability to create, edit and read articles, format text with an inline toolbar and add images by URL.
- Employed the Mongoose populate functionality and Express router to fetch data for a specified article from multiple collections with a single API call.

AUSTANA (React, Redux, ES6, Ruby, Rails, SCSS, Docker)

live | github

A project management web application inspired by Asana where users can create and organize projects, tasks and teams.

- Utilized Redux and asynchronous JavaScript with a RESTful API to provide a seamless user experience across all React components.
- Incorporated Webpack and Babel to ensure UI cross-browser compatibility.
- Implemented backend and frontend authentication with Rails models, BCrypt and React Router to enhance user privacy.

ROASTIA (MongoDB, Express, React, Node.js, GraphQL, React Autosuggest, ES6, SCSS)

live | github

Roastia allows indie coffee enthusiasts to find craft coffee shops closest to them.

- Integrated Mongoose, MongoDB, GraphQL queries and React Autosuggest to design a partial text search, which allows users to search for coffee shops and coffees based on a variety of attributes and view updated suggestions as they type.
- Used React Hooks and query strings to create a shareable URL with search parameters upon completion of a search.
